A Note from the Newsletter Editor: I have to admit, this number has been a long time in coming and it is all my fault. I have been busy, having a wonderful time doing archaeology, watching a legion of eager students uncover fantastic things out in the drained marshes of eastern New Orleans. It was such fun, I even put trowel to earth in a meaningful fashion myself. Then, naturally, I had to take a couple of days off, and then the semester started. But, this stuff really has to get out, especially the information about the LAS Field School which constitutes the last five pages of this issue. It promises to be a good session and I urge that you all try to make it. About the other material herein contained the Executive Committee Minutes are obvious, we always include those. At the last Annual Meeting, it was decided to publish the entire, updated Articles of Incorporation and the Bylaws so that all current members could have a copy. We plan to do this about every five years or so, publishing only the amendments during the interim. Consequently, this issue is a "keeper" if you are not in the habit of saving all of these treasures that fly off of the singing fingers of my beautiful staff. The other items include the announcement for the next Annual Meeting in Baton Rouge which promises to be a winner (some of my students and I will be presenting a series of papers on what we did this summer in case anyone is interested in why I couldn't get myself excited about turning out this newsletter sooner). The Certification Committee has been active revising the seminar requirements making them much more possible to attain. Many of them will be offered at the LAS Field School in October. Be sure to apply to Dr. Byrd so that you will be credited for attendence, etc. Missing from these pages is one of our regular features, the news from the several chapters. That is not because I do not have any, I do. But, not from every chapter. The reason for that which I do have not being included is that I decided to put them all into the next issue which I am already preparing. This issue is already big enough. For those of you who wish to update your news, send it along soon. For those of you who haven't as yet sent anything, and want to see you name in print, whip something up. Also something for all to consider, it is nearing the end of the year so the state elections are not far away. Start thinking about the nominations for the State Officers. The Nominating Committee (that's really the Executive Committee wearing different hats), will meet on the first day of the LAS Field School to choose the slate. The offices that are open this year are for Corresponding Secretary, currently held by Debbie Woodiel, and for Vice-President, President Elect, now held by Bill Baker. Thoughts on potential nominees for these offices should be sent to Brian Duhe, P. O. Drawer B, Reserve, LA 70084. You can also pass them on to your Chapter Representative if they plan to attend, which they better.

The NEWSLETTER OF THE LOUISIANA ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY is published quarterly for the Society by the Archaeological and Cultural Research Program of the University of New Orleans, supported, in part, by a grant to the Society from Standard Oil of Indiana. Send all notes, news, and other communications to: J. Richard Shenkel, LAS Newsletter Editor, Dept. of Anthropology & Goegraphy, University of New Orleans, New Orleans, LA 70148. Unless otherwise indicated, opinions stated herein are those of the Editor and do not necessarily reflect Society policy.

MEETING ANNOUNCEMENTS

Louisiana Archaeological Society 1983 Annual Meeting

The 1983 Annual Meeting of the Louisiana Archaeological Society will be held Friday January 28, 1983 through Sunday, January 30, 1983 at the Bellemont Hotel in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Anyone interested in presenting a paper is asked to contact Dr. Kathleen Byrd, State Archaeologist, at (504) 342-6680, of P. O. Box 44247, Baton Rouge, LA 70804.

Southeastern Archaeological Conference

The 39th Annual Meeting of the Southeastern Archaeological Conference will be held right up the road at Memphis, TN on the weekend following the LAS Field School, October 28, 29, and 30, at the Ramada Inn Convention Center (160 Union Ave.). The meetings this year are being hosted by Memphis State University. For any who may have never attended one of these gatherings, it is one of the more worth while of the regional meetings with papers from all over the Southeastern United States.

Caddo Conference

The 25th Meeting of the Caddo Conference will be held in March, 1983 in Natchitoches, LA. More on that will be forthcoming in a future issue.

NEWS FROM THE STATE

Indian Youth Workshops

This summer, for the first time in Louisiana, two archaeology workshops for Indian young people were conducted. The Division of Archaeology and the Inter-Tribal Council of Louisiana designed the program to introduce these students to archaeology and to Louisiana prehistory.

Approximately 50 high school students traveled to New Orleans for the July 7-8 and July 8-9 sessions. They stayed at the University of New Orleans and attended a classroom session there, led by Dr. J. Richard Shenkel and Dr. Malcolm Webb. The young people also saw a film, "The Early Americans."

The highlight of each workshop was working with Dr. Shenkel at the Big Oak Island site. The students toured the site one afternoon, then returned the following morning to excavate. They worked alongside students participating in UNO's archaeological field school that was held all summer at Big Oak Island.

The UNO research at the site is being supported by New Orleans East, a development corporation that owns the land, and that also provided financial assistance for the Indian Youth Workshops. New Orleans East is leasing the site to the National Park Service for a nominal fee, so it will be a part of Jean Lafitte National Historical Park.

NEWS - Certification Committee

The purpose of the Louisiana Archaeological Society's certification program is to provide an opportunity for people to learn more about archaeology and to receive recognition for their efforts. This program was developed at the request of LAS members and is two years old. As yet few LAS members are enrolled. Activities of the program include lectures, readings, projects, and supervised field and laboratory analysis. To become enrolled write:

Dr. Kathleen Byrd
Secretary, Certification Committee
Division of Archaeology
P. O. Box 44247
Baton Rouge, LA 70804

The Certification Committee will send you an application form plus a program outline. Return your application with ten dollars ($10.00) to the above address. Checks should be made payable to the Louisiana Archaeological Society. This is a one time cost.

The seminar requirements of the certification program are under review. We are hoping to be able to redesign the program to allow for more readings with fewer lecture hours. Several of the lectures to be given at the LAS annual field school in October can be used toward fulfilling certification lecture requirements.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

The Louisiana Department of Culture, Recreation and Tourism has recently published the fifth booklet in its Anthropological Study series. Nancy Hawkins, outreach coordinator for the Division of Archaeology, is the aruthor of "Preserving Louisiana's Legacy."

This volume departs somewhat from the previous ones in the series in that it does not describe a particular group of people or archaeological sites. Rather it addresses archaeological preservation as a whole. In this volume Ms. Hawkins explains in general terms how an archaeologist studies the past, what factors affect the preservation of archaeological remains, and how government, industry, business, landowners, and other groups and individuals can contribute to the preservation of Louisiana's archaeological heritage.

Copies of the booklet have been sent to representative from each LAS chapter. If any member has not received a copy, or would like more copies, please write Dr. Kathleen Byrd, State Archaeologist, P. O. Box 44247, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. 70804

The Bibliography of the Prehistory of the Upper Texas Coast, No. 5, April 1982 by L. W. Patterson is now available. This reference source now contains 310 entries for this 21 county region of southeast Texas. It can be obtained for $2.50 postpaid from the Houston Archaeological Society, P. O. Box 6751, Houston, Texas 77265.

ACADEMIC PRESS will publish Central Mississippi Valley Archaeology by Dan F. and Phyllis Morse about March, 1983.

MINUTES

LOUISIANA ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

May 15, 1982 - 1:00 P.M.
Marksville, Louisiana

The Executive Committee of the LAS held a meeting Saturday, May 15, 1982 at the Marksville State Park Museum. Present were:

President; Brian Duhe
President Elect; Bill Baker
Corresponding Secretary; Debbie Woodiel
Recording Secretary; Rosie Walker
Treasurer: Emily Vincent
State Archaeologist: Kass Byrd
Newsletter Editor: Rick Shenkel
Bulletin Editor: Jon Gibson
Northwest Representative: David Jeane
Northeast Representative: Maxine Spence and members James and Joyce Ogden
Representatives at Large: Dr. Clarence H. Webb, and Joe Frank
Central La. Chapter: Nancy Affeltranger
Marksville: George McCluskey and Marc Dupuy Jr.

The business meeting was called to order by president Brian Duhe. The minutes of the Executive Committee Meeting of January 30, 1982 were read and motion was made and passed to accept the minutes as read.

Bill Baker gave the financial report as of May 14, 1982. However, Bill asked that the financial statement be termed unofficial until he and Emily get the records transferred. Motion was made and seconded that the report with the necessary revisions be accepted. (statement will be in newsletter) Concern was expressed that current address be on new membership forms to avoid further confusion. Bill accepted responsibility for any membership errors but said as soon as transition of office would be completed things would fall into place. Bill asked that the Chapter representatives express his apologies to local members if they may have been left off of mailing list.

Jon Gibson gave the Bulletin report. He said the 1981 issue is in press and has been in press. It should be out as soon as the covers are printed and book assembled. The two Special issues, Troyville and Quachita will have to merge to form the 1982 bulletin because of lack of anticipated articles. Jon said he hopes to get 3 bulletins printed for $5000. Motion was made and passed to accept report.

Rick Shenkel gave the Newsletter report. He explained that the reason for the delay for the first quarter Newsletter was that the mimograph machine broke down but that the Newsletters were presently in the post office and were on their way to the members. It was moved and seconded that Newsletter report be accepted.

Brian Duhe spoke for the certification committee. The Certification Committee met in February and again in May. The number of enrolled members is small and one reason could be that the requirements for certification were unobtainable by most members. Revision was being made to present a more possible program. A handout was given to the excutive committee to take home for study and bring back to the next meeting to be voted upon. Changes for certification would affect only the seminar requirements and not field work requirements.

Dr. Byrd explained the procedure that would be used in testing for certification. The field work would have to be completed as well as the seminar hours and required readings. The applicant would then request the test. The test would be an open book test. Rick suggested that there should be a letter in the newsletter explaining how to go about applying for certification especially for new members.

OLD BUSINESS: Field School - Marc Dupuy offered the site and use of his camp for the 1982 Field School. The site, known as the Lake St. Agnes Site is a multicomponent site with Coles Creek and Tchefuncte components. After the meeting all were invited to go out to the site. Marc said that the 2-3 acre area where the mounds are located would not be under cultivation and just prior to the field school he would have it disked. The Saturday plans would be a seminar on mapping procedures; a controlled surface hunt; and ceremacis analysis. The day would end with a social in the form of a pig roast at the camp. Sunday's program would be for the participants to put their newly acquired mapping skills into use at the Marksville site and a visit to some other sites in the area. The field School would be only one weekend in the latter part of October when the weather would be more favorable. The Central Chapter would be host and tend to the registration and other essential necessities.

Brian stressed that the Field School is important because it provides opportunity for the professionals and amateurs to mingle and learn from each other. It was mentioned that some provisions be made in case of inclement weather. Brian said he would look into the availability of the park facilities. It was moved and seconded that the Certification and Field School reports be accepted.

The 1983 LAS Annual convention is scheduled for Baton Rouge. The Belmont Motor Inn will be the site for the 9th Annual meeting. Reservations are made for 1 conference room and 2 small rooms for the meeting and 75 motel rooms. The tenth annual meeting is being planned for Lafayette in 1984.

NEW BUSINESS - Sale of LAS Bulletins was discussed. Jon suggested we sell ads in back of the bulletin. He stated that there was a need for a business manager with a background for advertising. The sale of bulletins is becoming a larger and larger enterprise with a wide reaching interest in the LAS publications. It was suggested that a committee be appointed to look into book sale and advertising. Jon and Brian volunteered to look into the potential to advertise.

Motion was made that the Executive Committee approved certificates be given to the following for their participation for a successful 1982 Annual Convention. They are as follows: Nichols State University, Gerald Bordelon for Band, Randall Dentro as coordinator, Robert Self from Earth Science Dept., Richard Beavers and Robert Neuman for moderating symposia, Dr. Jensen for ceramic reproductions, Coastal Environments and Kass Byrd for the El Constanti Exhibit. It was moved and seconded that we approved the above named and also give a pat on the back to Brian Duhe and Forrest Travarica for a job well done.

Other certificates that had been approved previously were distributed at this time. [They were for the organizations of the previous Field Schools at Fish Creek] For organizing The Fish Creek Field Schools recognition was given to Debbie Woodiel, Jon Gibson, and Tommy Ryan. For the Poverty Point Field School recognition was given to Sharon Goad and for his years as Treasurer recognition was given to Bill Baker.

MORE NEW BUSINESS - David Jean brought up the idea of a Lending Library with other Archaeological organizations. At this time Jon Gibson brought up question of having reprints of the newsletters made. These questions would be worked out in the near future. Another question brought up by Jon Gibson was the need for a central holding place for all organizational publications and records. He offered USL as a central depository and Dr. Webb made the suggestion that possibly the Department of Archaeology could assist us in finding a central office space. The Archaeological Commission would soon meet and he would bring up the issue at that time.

It was announced that the Tunica Treasure was now on display in New Orleans.

Being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

THE LOUISIANA ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY BY-LAWS

As amended and adopted at the reorganizational meeting held in Jonesville, Louisiana, May 25, 1974, and amended January 28, 1978 in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and amended January 18, 1981 in Natchitoches, Louisiana.

ARTICLE I - MEMBERSHIP AND DUES

Section I

The purpose and objectives for which this non-profit corporation is formed are:

1. To unite individuals who are interested in the cultural heritage and prehistory of the area.

2. Preservation and display of cultural remains.

3. The scientific study, investigation and interpretation of archaeology, ethnological, anthropological and related subjects.

4. The publication and distribution of information concerning archaeology, ethnology, and anthropology.

5. The development and promotion of a greater public interest in and appreciation of the cultural heritage of the area.

6. To collect and interpret and preserve information on cultural heritage and pre-history for the use and assistance of all persons having a need for the information.

7. To raise and collect funds necessary for the carrying out of any of its purpose by any lawful means and adminsiter these funds as directed in the Articles of Incorporation.

Section 2

The seven classes of membership in the Society are: regular, associate, life, sustaining, student, honorary and fellow. The annual dues for each class of membership will be established by the Executive Committee and current dues will be published in the newsletter. Changes in annual dues shall be published in the newsletter 30 days prior to the effective date. An associate membership is available to a husband, wife and child 18 or above of any family, provided said family has at least one regular, life, fellow or sustaining member. An honorary membership may be awarded by nomination of the executive committee and approval of the Society to an individual, who is not an archaeologist but who has made outstanding contributions to the Society and its aims. A fellow membership may be awarded by nomination of the executive committee and approval of the Society to an archaeologist who has made outstanding contributions to Louisiana Archaeology.

Section 3

Institutions and other organizations may subscribe to the Society's publications upon payment of $10.00. Such Institutions and other organizations shall not be considered members of the Society. Orders for available back issues of the Society's annual publication (bulletin, special releases and quarterly newsletters) shall cost $10.00 for each year desired. If only the bulletin is desired, the cost shall be $7.50. Individuals who do not wish to become Society members, may purchase the annual bulletin only for $7.50 and/or the quarterly newsletters for $2.50 as long as issues are available.

Section 4

Regular, associate and student members shall pay annual dues at the beginning of each fiscal year. Life and sustaining members pay once and thereafter retain active membership with all attendant rights and privileges for the remainder of their lives.

ARTICLE II - PUBLICATIONS

Section 1

The Society shall publish a newsletter at regular intervals, to be established by the Executive Committee and editor, and an annual bulletin which shall be called "Louisiana Archaeology."

Section 2

Except for associates, all classes of membership and subscribing institutions shall receive the annual bulletin. Associate members may receive the bulletin by payment of the difference between their reduced dues and regular member dues.

Section 3

Except for associates all classes of membership and subscribing institutions shall receive the newsletter of the Society.

ARTICLE III - OFFICERS, EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, EDITOR, AND DUTIES

Section 1

The officers of this non-profit corporation shall consist of a president, a vice-president, who shall also be the president-elect, a corresponding secretary, a recording secretary, and a treasurer.

Section 2

Officers shall be elected by the Society at the annual meeting or by mail ballot.

Section 3

Terms of office for various positions shall be as follows: president, one year; vice-president, or president-elect, one year to immediately advance to presidency upon completion of one year in office, or sooner in case of vacancy; corresponding and recording secretaries, two years; and treasurer, two years.

Section 4

The president shall be the presiding officer of the Society and Chairman of the Executive Committee. He shall appoint members of the Society to special committees as necessary. With the approval of the Executive Committee, he is authorized to sign contracts and agreements in the name of the Society. He shall be responsible for calling elections and with the executive committee shall nominate the slate of officers to be voted on by the Society. He shall exercise all other duties and responsibilities commonly associated with the office and as are provided by the Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws.

Section 5

The Vice-President, or President-Elect, shall act as advisor on the Society's business, shall serve in place of the president in the latter's absence, shall serve on the Executive Committee, and shall assist in establishing local chapters.

Section 6

The corresponding secretary shall maintain the Central Office of the Society, shall disperse notices of dues and time and place of annual meetings, shall register all applications for membership in the Society, and shall issue to the membership a yearly report on membership status.

Section 7

The recording secretary shall compile minutes of the annual meeting and Executive Committee meetings, shall mail and receive ballots during elections, and shall tabulate returns, and notify successful candidates, president, and editor of results

Section 8

The treasurer shall receive and administer the finances of the Society subject to the regulation of the Executive Committee. He shall keep adequate records, shall make annual report to membership, and shall make these records available upon request of the Executive Committee. He shall process all applications for membership in the Society, shall maintain a current mailing list for publications, and shall administer the sale and care of bulletin and newsletter surpluses. He shall be authorized to give bond. The treasurer shall sign all checks which shall be countersigned by the president or president-elect.

Section 9

The Executive Committee shall consist of all officers of the Society, the editor/editors, one representative from each duly incorporated local chapter and two at-large representatives from the general membership. Affiliated chapters shall choose their representatives through local elections or appointments. At-large representatives shall be appointed by ehe LAS President from recommendation of the executive committee.

Section 10

The Executive Committee shall encourage and assist in the formation of local chapter of the Society; it shall authorize or reject applications of groups to become local chapters and shall have powers of termination in accordance with conditions specified in Article V of the By-Laws; it shall set the time and place of the annual meeting; it shall nominate condidates for office; it shall approve the budget; it shall hear and rule on cases concerning dismissal of members whose conduct is in noncompliance with the Society's code of ethnics (Article VII, By-Laws; it shall make interim appointments in the event of vacancies in elective officers, other than that of president; and it shall carry out such other duties and responsibilities as are outlined in the Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws.

Section 11

The editor/editors shall be appointed by Executive Committee. Notification of appointment shall be given to membership within 30 days. The editor/editors shall have charge of all publications of the Society. He/they shall receive and solicit manuscripts, notes and news, current research reports and business reports, and shall dispense this information in the form of an annual bulletin and newsletters. He/they shall be authorized to enter into agreements with publishing outlets, subject to the approval of the Executive Committee. He/they may appoint editorial assistants to serve under his/their direction for the duration of his/their term in office. Editor/editors should have demonstrated an ability to perform such duties by prior publication and/or acquired editorial experience.

ARTICLE IV - ELECTIONS

Section 1

The Executive Committee shall serve as the nominating committee.

Section 2

The nominating committee, after consultation with local chapters and ascertaining the willingness of persons to serve, shall submit a slate of nominees to the Society to be voted on at the annual meeting or by mail ballot, whichever means to be decided by the Executive Committee. In the event of mail balloting, members shall address ballots to Recording Secretary and place them in mail, not more than thiry days from the date they were mailed out by the Secretary. Those members, with the exception of honorary members, in good standing as described in ARTICLE VI, Section 2, will have the right to vote on matters connected with the Society and shall be entitled to hold elective or appointive office. The nominating committee shall be responsible for obtaining photographs and brief biographies of each nominee which are to be included in the newsletter prior to the election or with the mail ballot as appropriate. The Recording Secretary, as described in ARTICLE III, Section 7, along with two voting members in good standing appointed by the President will compile the returns. In the event the Recording Secretary is a nominee in the election, he will be excused from the actual vote count, and the returns will be compiled by the two appointees. They will report the election results to the Recording Secretary for his disposition as described in ARTICLE III, Section 7.

Section 3

The candidate for office who receives the highest number of votes shall be declared elected to that office. In the event of ties, the office-holder will be determined by a coin-flip.

Section 4

Regularly elected officers shall assume their duties on January 1, following their election or immediately after election results are official as directed by the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE V - LOCAL CHAPTERS

Section 1

Ten or more members of the Society may organize for the purpose of furthering the interests and objects of the Society on a local level and may petition the Executive Committee for the authorization to become a Chapter of the Society.

Section 2

Existent organizations with allied interests and objects coincident with the aims of the Society may apply to the Executive Committee for the authorization to become a Chapter, providing that over one half of the members of said organization shall become and remain members of the Louisiana Archaeological Society.

Section 3

The purposes of the Chapters and the actions of their members shall be consistent with those of the society as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws.

Section 4

A charter shall be issued to each authorized Chapter and will remain in effect until terminated by the Executive Committee.

Section 5

A chapter may be terminated by action of the Executive Committee when a Chapter's membership falls below ten, when it fails to comply with requirements setforth therein, or when a majority of the chapter's memberships requests disassociation.

ARTICLE VI - FINANCES

Section 1

The fiscal year of the Society shall begin January 1.

Section 2

Annual dues become due January 1. Members sixty days in arreas shall not receive the publications of the Society until back dues are paid, at which time they will receive back issues for that year. A member will be dropped from the membership roll if he has not paid dues within one year. A member shall not have the right to vote un-ess dues are paid for the current year.

Section 3

Income from annual dues, Society sponsored activities, gifts, sale of publications, grants, and government funds shall constitute the working capital for operations, publications and other expenses consistent with the purpose of the Society.

ARTICLE VII - CODE OF ETHICS

Section 1

In addition to the aims and objects of the Society, the Society shall adopt a code of ethics befitting its role as the singular state organization dedicated to the preservation, interpretation, dispensing of information of Louisiana's archaeological resources. The society shall adhere to the view that the archaeological resource is not replaceable and once taken from context must be adequately protected, catalogued, and made accessible, when necessary, to further the aims of the Society in particular and for the good of the public in general. The membership of the Society shall be aware that archaeological materials resulted from the activities of once-living groups of human beings and shall observe proper respect and care for these materials so as to demean these extinct peoples nor their contemporary decendants.

Section 2

Nonadherance to the views expressed in Section 1 may constitute grounds for dismissal from the Society. Nonadherance to the above principles shall be judged by the following types of activities: the buying and selling of artifacts for commercial purposes; the disregard of proper archaeological field techniques; and the willful destriction or distortion of archaeological data. Such offenses are censured and may cause the expulsion of any member, proven guilty of such charges, on a two-thirds vote of the Executive Committee. Complaints or charges of breach of ethics shall be fully considered by the Executive Committee. Reprimand, probation, or expulsion may be considered.

Section 3

Before a member is expelled from the Society, he shall be given written notice by the corresponding secretary that a complaint has been lodged against him. This letter shall summarize the nature of the complaint, shall quote, in full, the specifications of Article VII of the By-Laws, and shall inform him that dismissal will be forthcoming if the complaint is judged valid. This letter shall further inform the member that he must file a written defense and appeal for a formal hearing with the corresponding secretary within 30 days from the mailing date of the notice. Failure to comply within the specified time will necessitate the final determination of the Executive Committee without benefit of defense. If the accused member does issue appeal within specified limits, the Executive Committee shall set a hearing date and notify the member in writing of the date, time, and place of the hearing. The full Committee may hear the case, or it may appoint special representatives who shall report back to the full committee. Upon completion of the hearing, the committee shall make its final decision within 30 days and shall notify the member in writing of its final action. In the event of expulsion, membership in the Society shall be cancelled and the member's dues considered forfeited. The penalties provided in the Article shall not be exercised ex post facto.
